NOT IN THE PARADE—Queen Sandra Brott gives the burro the sad news that he cannot appear in the Palm Springs Mounted Police Rodeo parade Saturday morning. The parade, the best ever presented, will feature 1,000 horses and 2,000 horsemen in the opening of the 1953 Palm Springs Rodeo.

RODEO OF THE STARS THIS WEEKEND TO ATTRACT HUNDREDS TO VILLAGE

The Rodeo of the Stars. And the event this year is destined to be the biggest and best ever held—living up to its name in every respect, Warren Coble, captain of the Palm Springs Mounted Police, sponsoring organization, announced today.

The Rodeo will start at 10:30 a. m., Saturday, with the largest parade ever staged. More than 1,000 horses and 2,000 horsemen will be lined up at El Mirador hotel entrance on Palm Canyon drive, and parade down to the Ramon road and out to the Polo Grounds.

LEO CARRILLO will be grand marshal of the parade, and Queen Sandra Brott will reign over this festivity as well as all others of the two-day celebration.

Let's all sing together—
Brother! This IS weather.

SEEM THERE'S a man and wife in Palm Desert with a big, new, expensive camera a bit too intricate for them. . . . So whenever they want it loaded they bring it up town to a local photographic shop for the technical procedure. . . . They were up here one day this week and parked in the yellow zone before the shop while the husband went in. . . . The wife got out of the car for a little window shopping. . . . Just then came the law. . . . "Lady," he said, "can't you read. It says 'loading zone.'" . . . "Sure," she said, "I know, that's what my husband is doing. . . . He's having the camera loaded."

ACCORDING to the old superstition, Monday was Groundhog Day. . . . If the groundhog, who pops his head out that day after a long winter sleep, sees his shadow, he pops back and, tradition says, we have six more weeks of winter. . . . It was bright and sunny Monday and he certainly was able to see his shadow. . . . That means six weeks more of winter for us. . . . Well, if it keeps up like this, who cares? . . . And besides, I've never seen a groundhog here, yet. . . . Only road hogs. . . . They should sleep all winter and all summer, too.

The rodeo will be staged at the Polo Grounds, starting at 1:30 p. m., both Saturday and Sunday, and will feature top riders of the rodeo circuit striving to accumulate their first points in their campaign for the world's championship.

Johnny Hollinger, rodeo chairman, and Queen Sandra have been in Los Angeles this past week making television appearances to publicize the event which is expected to attract 35,000 to 40,000 visitors to the Village.

TOP STARS OF RADIO, screen and television scheduled to appear in the parade and rodeo are Hoot Gibson, Carolina Cotton, Edith Happy and Monte Montana and his family.

PITTSBURGH MAYOR AND PARTY GUESTS IN CITY

Mayor David L. Lawrence and party from Pittsburgh were honored by Palm Springs city officials and civic leaders at a luncheon Monday noon at the Racquet Club.

Mayor Lawrence, Jack Robin, executive director of Urban Redevelopment Authority; Park Martin, executive director of Allegheny Conference on Community Development, and Gen. Brehon Somervell, president of Koppers Company and president of the Pittsburgh Light Opera Association, are here to consult with Edgar Kaufman of Palm Springs and Pittsburgh.

Quarter Horses Subject Thursday

A discussion of the proposed quarterhorse and thoroughbred racing plants in this area will be presented by the Palm Springs Realty Board at its monthly panel next Tuesday noon, February 10, at The Ranch. "Because of the tremendous interest in these projects and what they will mean to Palm Springs, the Realty Board has selected this subject in its series of panel discussions on problems of community interest," Terry Ray, program chairman, said.

Ray said that speakers will be available from both the quarterhorse and thoroughbred groups, as well as other interested citizens who are being contacted at the present time.

The luncheon meeting will start at 12:15 p. m., and as a capacity group is expected he advised that reservations either be made with him or at The

An added attraction in the parade will be high school bands from Palm Springs, Coachella, Banning and Montebello. . . . On Saturday night a huge Rodeo dance will be staged at the Wars Memorial building at 400 North Belardo road.

Stars are not only going to appear in the parade and rodeo, but will be spectators themselves, according to the reservations received for box seats, Coble said.

RESERVATIONS have been received from Mr. and Mrs. William Powell, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Benny and their radio cast, Bing Crosby, Dinah Shore and George Montgomery, Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis, Phil Harris and Alice

Young Hikers Found Unhurt by Rescuers

Lads Just Waited for Moon to Light Their Way Down

Two teen-age boys who had just settled down to wait until the moon provided enough light to travel down the dangerous slopes of Tahquitz Canyon were rescued by members of the Palm Springs Mounted Police and sheriff's deputies early Monday morning.

Frank Montesecca, 18, and Arthur Sanchez, 13, had gone up into the canyon at 3:30 p. m., Sunday, and on their way back found that it had become dark and travel down the rock slopes was dangerous. They decided to wait until the moon provided enough light to continue travel and settled down in a sheltered area and started a fire.

FIRST ALARM of their absence was given by their fathers, Joe Sanchez and Frank Montesecca, at 9:55 p. m., and search operations were started immediately under the direction of Sgt. Jim Maynard.

Aiding Maynard with a ground search first was Wes Yager, who had earlier reported sighting a fire in that vicinity, which was checked without any results about 7 p. m.

Failing to find anything on the ground search, Maynard returned to Palm Springs and he and Herbert Burns of the Palm Springs Aero Squadron started an aerial search at 12:56 a. m.

MAYNARD RADIOED in at 1:10 a. m. asking that the Mounted Police be contacted and start a foot search. Captain Warren Coble and his party of six men started at 2:10 a. m., and about an hour later radioed in the report that they had spotted the two boys and "were coming down to them from the top of the mountain."

Contact was made at 3:18 a. m., and the party arrived back at the station at 4 a. m., where the parents of the boys were waiting.

In Coble's party were Allan Davis, Hutch Mosely, Rolly Dunlap, and Sheriff's Deputies Ed Brown, Douglas Palmer and Curt Ring.

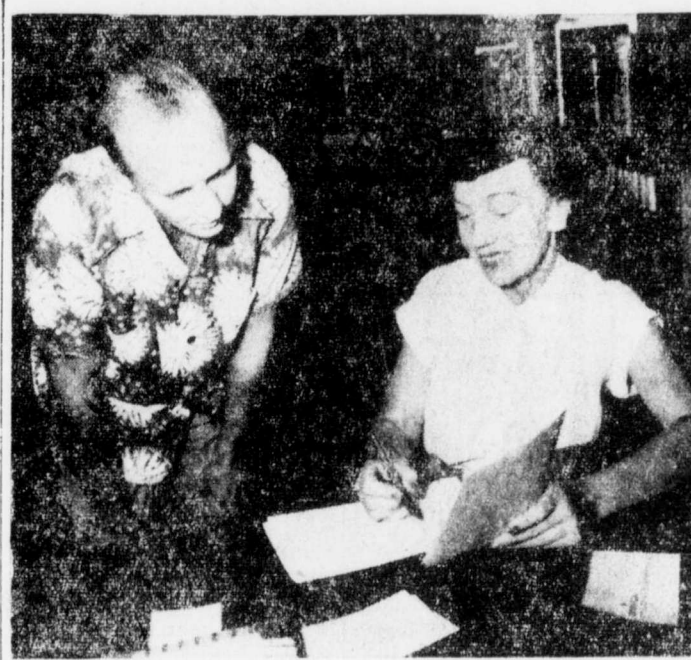

SGT. JOHN HERRERA was in charge of the radio contact at the Palm Springs Police Department and coordinated the search operations.

The boys were found about the 1,000-foot mark, and suffered no ill effects, officers reported. They didn't hear any of the searchers' efforts to attract them, firing of shots or the motors of the plane, the boys said.

Irene Albert in Court Monday

Irene Albert, 37, arrested here a few weeks ago on federal charges of falsifying passport information, is scheduled to appear in United States court in Los Angeles Monday to enter her plea.

Through her attorney she indignantly denies the charge.

TO RETURN DONATION—Bill Sandeffer, Korean veteran who received three pints of blood when injured in action, signs up with Mrs. Herbert Burns, appointment chairman, to return one of these pints when the Bloodmobile will be here February 16 under the sponsorship of the Red Cross. Sandeffer was awarded the Bronze Star and Purple Heart for his service in Korea.

MORE DONORS NEEDED FOR BLOOD BANK VISIT

"We still need 150 more blood donors to reach our quota of 250 for the visit of the Two-County Medical Society bloodmobile here February 16," Mrs. Burnham Bigelow, Red Cross recruitment chairman, announced today.

The Bloodmobile will be at the Wars Memorial building from 10 a. m. to 3 p. m., to collect blood for the fighting men in Korea. Quota for Palm Springs is 220 pints of blood, with 250 donors needed to insure this.

THE NEED is still as great as ever, Mrs. Bigelow said in appealing for volunteers. "Our greatest fear is that people have heard this story so often, that they actually don't hear the appeal and recognize the need."

Explaining that 300,000 pints of blood are used every month in Korea and base hospital in that area, Mrs. Bigelow said that all types of blood are needed, with Type O blood most urgently requested at this time. Type O blood will be flown here immediately, she added, with the other types remaining here to be made into plasma.

THIS IS THE LAST time this season that Villagers will have the opportunity to send their blood to help save a life in Korea, the recruitment chairman said.

She urged donors to call the "Life Saving Number" 2701, the Palm Springs Answering Service, where appointments will be made for the Bloodmobile visit. Mrs. Hans Lauritz Hansen is in charge of arrangements, and Mrs. Tom Holland of the canteen which will provide food for both donors and workers.

Says Jacket Taken from Parked Auto

Joe Hildreth of 336 North Palm Canyon drive, reported to police Sunday that a dark grey jacket had been taken from his car while it was parked at the intersection of Indian and Amado roads.

The jacket was valued at $24.

24-HOUR SERVICE FOR BLOOD DONORS

Did you ever hear of a life saving telephone number?

There is one in Palm Springs.

It is 2701 where calls are taken day or night from the many Villagers who are listing their names as blood donors for the fighting men in Korea. Appointments will be made for February 16 when the bloodmobile of the Bi-county Medical Society will be at Wars Memorial building to aid Red Cross in the collection of blood. There is a special need for type O blood which will be flown directly to the fighting front.

Chest Campaign Begun this Week in Business Area

Solicitation among the business houses of Palm Springs was started by volunteer workers of the Community Chest Monday, Committee Chairman Bob McKenzie reported.

The campaign is planned to be conducted in one week's time, but will be extended if necessary to insure that everyone is contacted, McKenzie said.

Less than one-third of the quota of $41,087 has been raised by advance gifts, and the remainder will have to be secured by a more intensive personalized campaign, according to W. H. Smith, Community Chest president.

Aiding in the business house collection campaign are: John J. Archibald, Leo Baker, Leonard A. Beck, Ray Blumenthal, Toby Curtis, Marty Cobin, Earl Dodd, Wilson O. Gibbs, William Goodridge, James D. Haddock, Edward Hawkins, Joseph R. Henderson, John W. Hills.

Mexican Police Arrest Villagers

Two Villagers are currently in the custody of Tijuana, Mexico, police charged with trying to sell a Thompson sub-machine gun there.

They are Jerry Lee O'Brien, 19, 6569 Desert View, and George Lee Paulsen, 21, 634 South Palm Canyon drive.

Palm Springs authorities were notified of the arrest Sunday, and Capt. Orest Johnson and Sgt. John Hererra went there Tuesday.

Head of Law Enforcement Forces Here Asks to be Relieved of Position Feb. 28

Chief Kettmann Would End 17 Years of Peace Enforcement Work, Eight Years in Palm Springs, to Enter Private Business

City Manager Russell Rink had another headache handed him yesterday. Chief of Police August G. Kettmann handed his resignation in to the city manager to take effect Feb. 28.

A copy of the chief's resignation was handed to the Desert Sun. Coupled with the police head's resignation is the report that five and perhaps six members with long years of service are seeking other positions.

CHIEF KETTMANN in his resignation said that his "decision was made with great reluctance" ending a career in law enforcement of 17 years.

He plans to enter private business, he said.

If and when Chief Kettmann sheds the number one police badge he will have completed almost eight years of service in Palm Springs in the same position. He was appointed chief by former City Manager Ray Sorum April 16, 1945.

THE CHIEF pointed out in his letter to City Manager Rink that when he accepted his present job "the police department was one-fourth the size it is today."

He also stated that during his term of office juvenile delinquency has been reduced to a minimum to a point where "Palm Springs is called the white spot in Riverside county." Under the chief's guidance the Palm Springs Police Officers' Reserve association, the Mounted Police and recently the Palm Springs Aero Squadron have been organized.

CHIEF KETTMANN particularly pointed out in his letter of resignation that:

"Eight men have now qualified as instructors in their respective fields and are recognized as such by the state department of education, an achievement that is unmatched by any department of our size, or even larger, in California."

"In addition, and most important, a policy of courtesy has been instilled into department members and every effort has been made to serve the peculiar and diversified needs of the community in a friendly and competent manner."

KETTMANN POINTED with pride to the fact that not a single charge of police brutality has been leveled at the department or a suit for damages filed against the city.

"In relinquishing by stewardship I take great pride in what has been accomplished and only regret that the responsibility and performance of those in public service is not held in the same regard as like effort in private industry."

"In conclusion, I am grateful to the city council, city manager and to my fellow department heads for their assistance and cooperation. It has been a great experience and I trust that the friendships made will continue through the years," Kettmann wrote.

RESIGNS—Police Chief August G. Kettmann yesterday submitted his resignation effective February 28 to City Manager Russell Rink.

GREETINGS TO OUR VISITORS—and winter residents—from the Pacific Northwest! So many of you have selected Palm Springs for your winter residence or vacation that we have now a good-sized Pacific Northwest colony that is still growing year by year. Indeed, many of you have become as much a part of Palm Springs as the year-round residents and have contributed much to the progress and development of this entire desert resort area. You are among the best boosters we have because more of your friends come down to be with us every year.

We like your country, too—in the summer. We think it is as delightful as it is beautiful. Most Villagers—and other Southern Californians—who have visited Oregon, Washington and British Columbia during the summer agree that the Northwest is a magnificent vacationland. Its green mountain sides, lakes and beautiful harbors have a special appeal for desert dwellers. We are good boosters for your country, too!

Maybe we should form some sort of a compact or alliance between the Evergreen Playground and the Desert Vacationland. Between the two we have just about everything. For variety and contrasts the two areas are hard to beat. We have every reason to believe that the improvement in transportation facilities will continue to bring these two vacationlands closer together. The alliance need have no political entanglements and we can all be ambassadors to each other's country.

Summer in the cool evergreens . . . winter under the warm desert sun . . . what more can one ask for?

Today's Trailer Far Cry from Old Covered Wagon

Just as the desert once a sandy waste strewn with bleached bones, has reached its palmy days as a resort wonderland, so the great covered wagon, with creaking, jolting wheels and canvas top, has given way to the modern trailer, a mansion on rubber-tired wheels.

Out at Horizon Trailer park, three miles east of the Village on Highway 111, this past week visitors have been marveling at the ultimate in luxurious trailers.

THE 40-FOOT DeVille trailer, only one of its kind, was designed by Trailer King Al Rose, and was built in El Monte. Its gleaming exterior is beige, with brown trim. It has two doors and its numerous windows are all screened and fitted with venetian blinds.

The living room, with its eight-foot ceiling, and indirect lighting is carpeted from wall to wall and furnished Early American. The walls are paneled in light birch, with a full length mirror and a panel ray heater in set. There is a cabinet for a television and a corner cupboard.

Sliding doors divide the rooms. You go from the living room into the very modern, very efficient kitchen, with its complete Crosley sink unit, with pulverator and hot water heater. The well-planned room is also fitted with a four-burner Blue Bonnet stove with twin ovens, a Shetland, and innumerable storage cupboards. A semi-circular padded breakfast booth has a plastic-topped table that swings around on a pivot. The walls of the compact kitchen are covered with a washable linoleum. In an attractive leaf pattern, the linoleum tile is in alternate blocks of green and clear yellow. Pretty ruffled curtains at the windows, add the homemaker's touch.

THE NEXT ROOM is the bathroom and it is the surprise, for it is full size. The built-in tub has sliding glass shower doors. There is a wall thermometer for heat, and a padded, hollow bench slides over the bathroom's most utilitarian item to convert it into a dressing bench. The lavatory is almost surrounded by storage cabinets.

The fourth, and last room, is the bedroom, with its double bed, built-in cupboards and wall heater. There is a door opens into this room, so the trailer may be entered from either end.

The DeVille, said to be the most elaborate in the country, offers every convenience of modern living, in sumptuous fashion. It is truly a home, with the added advantage of being able to change the view outside the windows.

La Quinta Scholar Translates Work

Dr. George Scherer of La Quinta recently received a first copy of a work he prepared for UNESCO before leaving Beirut, Lebanon in July, 1951, to take up residence in the desert area.

Scherer, a scholar of the "International Commission for the Translation of the Classics," formed by UNESCO and the Government of Lebanon, to undertake the first translation from Arabic into English.

The book translated by Dr. Scherer was written by the Imam al-Ghazali, a famous philosopher, mystic and teacher who was a contemporary of Omar Khayyam.

Dr. Scherer's introduction to the translation, telling of the spiritual pilgrimage of al-Ghazali, is being used in the French edition now being published in Paris.

Blame Despondency for Woman's Death

Mrs. Carol B. LeCover, 25-year-old resident, was found dead Monday in her Beverly Hills apartment, apparently of an overdose of sleeping tablets.

Investigators said several partly emptied bottles of barbiturate tablets were found in her apartment.

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Aschheim, of Palm Springs, said she had been despondent over the breakup of her marriage. They told investigators she had been under a psychiatrist's care for three years and had attempted suicide three times.

Orders are now being taken for home installation of television in the southeast quarter of Section 11, R. H. Bennett, general manager of Palm Springs Community Television Corporation, announced today.

Most of the area is now covered by cables, and installation in homes will be started in 10 days to two weeks, when television will be received for the first time in an all residential area, Bennett said.

The area involved is bounded by Alejo road on the south, Tachavay drive on the north, Sunrise Way on the east, and Avenida Caballeros on the west.

Members of the Palm Springs high school classes in civics, history and political science witnessed the State of the Nation address by President Dwight Eisenhower, over four television sets in El Paseo theatre Monday.

The broadcast was arranged by the Community Television Corporation and presented free of charge.

How City Operates Told Kiwanians by City Manager

Operation of the Palm Springs city government, its problems and proposed projects were outlined to Kiwanis club members at their luncheon meeting Tuesday at the Tennis club by City Manager Russell Rink.

Among proposed projects are improvement of streets, a special census, new city hall, municipal golf course, and acquisition of airport property, Rink said.

The city manager described how the tax dollar paid by Villagers is divided, with the city receiving only about 25 cents of it.

Mrs. Burnham Bigelow, recruitment chairman for the visit of the Bloodmobile here under Red Cross sponsorship, appealed for donors to help fill the quota of 220 pints of blood to be sent to Korea.

"The need is still very great as more than 300,000 pints of blood are used there each month," she said.

N. K. McDonald was program chairman. President Ray Lusby presided.

Defense Takes Over in Hearing Against Duvals

Defense attorneys took over in the four-week trial of Leonard and Joseph Duval, Palm Desert contractors, charged in two counts of grand theft and one of conspiracy, in superior court.

The state closed its case Monday as the fourth week of the hearings began.

The trial was recessed Tuesday as the brothers were called before a hearing here on revocation of their contractor's licenses.

Defense Attorneys William Shaw of Riverside and J. F. Rosen of Coachella started questioning witnesses yesterday.

The state maintains that the

Minor Temblor Felt in Southland Tuesday Evening

What was classified as a "minor temblor" shook Palm Springs along with the rest of the county Tuesday night at 8:36. It was felt in most of the desert area but reports indicated its severity was spotty.

In some places in town there were no reports of a quake, in others it was reported as a sharp north and south movement of the earth.

In the west end of the county it was recorded as a single, sharp jolt.

At San Diego the temblor was reported as strong enough to crack plaster while at Blythe, in the eastern edge of the county, no quake was reported.

Earlier in the day, San Luis Obispo, several hundred miles away, was shaken by a single sharp quake.

PALM SPRINGS is noted for its hospitality . . . Visitors are encouraged to stay as long as possible . . . But here's one case in reverse . . . Police were asked by residents of Linda Vista drive to ask a party of visitors to move on . . . Seems they parked their cars and appropriated the nearby lawns for a picnic party . . . Debris was scattered all over and wafted about in the vagrant wind . . . They moved on . . . And I still marvel at DeMuth park every Monday morning . . . Last Sunday the little green triangle was filled with picnickers . . . Cars were parked solid on almost all three sides . . . Monday morning while rolling to work at 7 a. m., the place was clean, absolutely . . . It must be the city gangs . . . Picknickers aren't all that careful.

THERE'S A DIFFERENCE in mayors . . . This week David L. Lawrence, mayor of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, and our own Charley Farrell lunched together . . . Said the Pittsburgh mayor: "All mayors have to be actors . . . The big difference here is that Palm Springs' mayor receives no cash for mayoring but gets it all from acting . . . I also have to act but my money comes from being mayor." . . . It takes a lot to impress Steve Covey, aged 11 . . . When he saw one of the city's motorcycle police after the latter had returned from racing to the scene of an accident, Steve told him: "I tried to keep up with you on my bike but you got away."

In the Hemet area last week, burglars raided the Sunset Nudist ranch which operated only week-ends . . . The loot was 1500 photographs of nudists and $750 in cash . . . Where do nudists carry their cash? . . . The sheriff's office had no details on the crime . . . Just the bare facts.

Reed's first entertainment job, at the Dempsey-Vanderbilt in Miami Beach 17 years ago, was on the same show with Sophie Tucker . . . He was intermission pianist at the show . . . One of his prized scrap-book collections is a picture of Sophie Tucker, Benny Gaines (the owner of D.V.) Joan Abbott and himself . . . Since that time he has covered most of the United States and a large part of Canada, playing lots of piano.

THEY SAY that Mario Lanza, resting up here, really sang his way into Palm Canyon . . . Seems Lawrence Odle gave him a pass into the canyon . . . But that the gate keeper decided to make it worth while . . . She asked for and got an autographed picture of Lanza and then asked him to sing to make the pass good . . . He did . . . and then enjoyed the canyon.

Cravys Quintet Downs Pomona in Speedy Game

Cravys' cagers, playing their best game of the year, scored a 32 to 45 exhibition win over a tall Pomona quintet Saturday night at the local high school gym.

The Villagers led all the way, 12 to 8 at the quarter, 22 to 15 at half time and 32 to 27 after three periods. Pomona came back strong in the fourth quarter, coming within two points of tying the Cravys team, but Wilfred Lucas and John Wade pulled their team out of danger. Wade was leading scoring for the winners, with game honors taken by Calhoun of Pomona with 21 points. The six foot four inch center dumped in seven baskets and an equal number of free throws.

TO COMPETE IN INVITATIONAL MEET — Gilbert Shay, Hugh Stewart, Tony Trabert and Noel Brown are among the top amateurs of California who will compete in the sixteenth annual Invitational Tennis Tournament February 13-14-15, sponsored by the Palm Springs Tennis Patrons Association. The four men are pictured following an exhibition match at the Racquet Club's Pabst Blue Ribbon tournament.

RCL Cellar Title to be Decided at Beaumont Friday

Winless after their first four league games, Coach Clare Ballagh's Indians have their best chance to rack up their initial win when they meet the equally winless Beaumont quintet on the Cougar's floor Friday.

The local cagers displayed their best offensive form of the season last week when they scored 41 points in their 67 to 41 loss to Perris.

BEAUMONT at the same time was absorbing a 41 to 29 pasting by Coachella.

Palm Springs Bees will be definite underdogs as they meet the once-beaten Cougar Junior Varsity squad. The Bees also played their best game of the year against Perris before losing 57 to 41.

TOP LEAGUE INTEREST this week will be at Hemet where the Bulldogs, undefeated in four starts, entertain the only other unbeaten team, Elsinore. Elsinore will probably hold the role of favorite as the Tigers edged Banning 57 to 55 last Friday.

In other league action tomorrow night, Coachella is at Banning and San Jacinto at Perris.

Mhoon-Mhoon Tighten Grip on Third Place

Mhoon and Mhoon strengthened their hold on third place in City Basketball League action Tuesday night by defeating the fourth place team, Royal Aces, 38 to 32.

A last quarter rally saved the game for Mhoon and Mhoon as Royal Aces had led all the way up to that time. Period scores were 8 to 5, 17 to 15 and 29 to 27. Chuck Buresh was high scorer for Mhoon and Mhoon with 13 points, and Joe Strange led the Royal Aces quintet with 11.

Native Dancer, Turf Champ to Parade Next Saturday

Native Dancer, undefeated in nine starts and voted by TRA racing secretaries as the Champion Horse of 1952, will make his first public appearance on Saturday to provide an outstanding special attraction to close Santa Anita's annual charity week of racing. Owner Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt has co-operatively accepted the invitation of P. G. Winnett, president of the non-profit Santa Anita Foundation, for which the charity days are conducted, to parade the sensational gray colt on the track after the first race on the program.

A BANNER CROWD is expected to turn out for the closing show of Charity Week, which also has the $25,000 San Felipe Handicap and the $20,000 San Marcos Handicap on the augmented program. Native Dancer was out here as a juvenile last season but did not start and he will not get to the races this winter because he is just recovering from having his ankles fired.

Local racing fans will accordingly get their first opportunity to see this three-year-old turf champion that rules as the early favorite for the Kentucky Derby and other classics that are to follow in the east. He has been heralded in many sections as a rival of immortal Man O'War. In his only season of racing he set up a better record with his nine winning races earning a record $230,495 for a two-year-old.

LOS ANGELES TURF CLUB, Inc., which conducts these charity days for the benefit of Santa Anita Foundation under the provisions of the California Racing Act and with the approval of the State Racing Board, accounts for the income from all sources, including admissions, programs, parking fees and concessions, besides the pari mutuel commission. Only direct expenses incurred are deducted.

No charge is made for yearly salaries, insurance or any overhead expenses.

Los Angeles Turf Club, Inc.

does not make any profit directly or indirectly on charity days.

More and More, People are Talking About the

SHADOW MOUNTAIN ESTATES

surrounding and adjacent to the magnificent SHADOW MOUNTAIN CLUB at Palm Desert.

Why? The Answer can be summed up in these 10 Reasons:

1. For location, no other desert residential development can approach this setting in the "Golden Horseshoe" formed by the Santa Rosa Mountains—accounting for the matchless climate in this protected cove.
2. Hours more sun.
3. These homesites are not situated on the valley floor but are on a gentle rising slope, commanding an unexcelled view. Individual properties, however, being practically level, offer no building problem.
4. Free from undesirable congestion.
5. A charming community of gracious neighbors.
6. Exceptional civic and cultural advantages of Palm Desert include modern school, community church, fire station, art museum, smart stores and shops.
7. All utilities. Television reception.
8. Protective property restrictions safeguard your investment from inferior development.
9. Whether you plan an inexpensive weekend retreat or a larger desert home, you'll find the perfect site here.
10. Why accept less than the best - especially when prices here are no higher than in so many unrestricted desert areas.

Cops Stuck for Clues but They Found Missing Loot

"OUCH!" And that's the way a diamond ring was found by local police officers after it had been reported stolen from his room by J. L. Holzendorf, Los Angeles private detective. The thief of the $1500 stickpin was reported Sunday, and police immediately started an investigation — worried that another "sneak thief" outbreak had started in the Village.

The apartment was carefully checked, and then an officer went into the closet to make a routine check there—where he and the stickpin found each other. The stickpin was lodged in a shirt all of a shirt hanging in the closet. "We couldn't find out how the pin ever came to be placed in the shirt," officers reported, "but we warned Holzendorf not to leave sharp objects protruding from clothing." The private detective's only comment: "I enjoyed my stay in Palm Springs."

NEW MANAGER—Tom Johnson, veteran hotel man, is the new manager of Del Tahquitz hotel.

Johnson at Helm at Del Tahquitz

Tom Johnson, veteran of 23 years in the hotel business, is the new manager of the Del Tahquitz hotel. It was announced this week by the Del Tahquitz Hotel, Inc., recent purchasers of the hotel.

Johnson, who managed the Martinique hotel in New York City for 14 years, has held the same position with the Lincoln and McAlpin hotels. He first visited the Del Tahquitz four years ago, and said he was very happy to come to Palm Springs.

An innovation of the new regime will be the opening of the dining room to the public and this will go into effect tomorrow. "Top service and the finest food will be our standard," Johnson promised.

Bill Dietrich, vocalist and pianist, will appear in the Gauche Room at Del Tahquitz.

Cafe society is beating a trail to the Saddle and Sirloin, as the popular Doodles and Skeeter show enters the last few nights of its engagement. The explosive gaiety of the act has proven such a drawing card that Dave Lyons is considering bringing them back at a later date. Volatile Doodles and engaging Skeeters, with their racy songs, zany hats and contagious enthusiasm have great audience appeal, and many first nighters are still going back for more.

Another Big Loss for City

Along with the burgeoning growth of Palm Springs, especially during and after the last world war, the city has constantly been confronted with personal problems.

This problem had and has to do with economic factors as it concerns the compensation of these public servants versus the high cost of living. Coupled with the statement above the greatest turbulence has taken place during the past two years.

Particularly is this true of the most important department operating within the city structure, the Palm Springs Police Department.

Chief of Police August Kettman constantly pressed to supply adequate police protection for the ever growing populace of this community and faced with a financial budget that would not bend, has accomplished a superb job.

He like everyone in a small community, is not loved by everybody. There are some upon whose toes he has had to step in order to perform his duty. Nevertheless, during his eight years of service to the city he has brought about the organization of the Palm Springs Reserve Officer's Association, capable today of taking over 35 percent of the city's police headaches. Also he brought about the organization and functioning of the Mounted Police, and is now in progress of creating the Palm Springs Aero Squadron.

In this manner the Chief of Police has supplied the citizens of this community with supplemental police protection which in turn has saved the city thousands of dollars annually.

Today, as it was yesterday, the day before, last month and a year ago there is a constantly changing picture of faces in our police department. Men employed today, go through a period of training peculiarly necessary in such a city as Palm Springs, and then quite suddenly these men are gone — their training for naught, the effort expended netting nothing more than minus zero.

The writer knows that several of the key personnel members of the Police Department, with four to six years of service are seeking employment elsewhere. The reason, of course, is higher compensation.

Today Chief of Police August Kettman, who has created police department from virtually nothing stands with a resignation in the hands of City Manager Russell Rink.

He, too, found it necessary to seek other fields of employment because of compensation factors. With his resignation, if the city council and city manager permit him to do so without some compensatory effort, will go eight years of hard and unremitting toil for the citizens of this community.

Kettman has established himself here not only as a wise and diplomatic individual in carrying out his duties but he has been one of the finest public relations representatives this city has ever had in the same capacity.

He should not be permitted to resign. What he wants in the way of compensation can be easily worked out for a man holding one of the most important positions in the Village.

Most important of all, it is known that the lack of political security, such as civil service, now in effect, does not include him. Furthermore, unlike many other cities there is no retirement plan. And both of these factors concerns any man who devotes the best part of his life to any endeavor, particularly in public office.

Chief Kettman's letter of resignation is printed elsewhere in this edition of the Desert Sun. It should be read.

It should be read because the only type of man we in Palm Springs want as our Chief of Police is one of the same calibre as Chief August Kettman. If we should find to replace him, there is no doubt he, too, will at the beginning or later demand the same conditions now causing the resignation of our present chief of police.

This is something for every citizen and winter resident to think about and seriously too, and then do something about the situation.

Market, Cravy's to Clash Tonight "Miss Baseball" Guest in Village

The two top teams of the City Basketball League, Cravy's and Village Market, will meet at 8 p. m., tonight, in one of the outstanding games of the season.

On Saturday night, Village Market and Mhoon and Mhoon will represent the city in an exhibition doubleheader at Coachella, and next Tuesday Village Market will meet Royal Aces in a regularly scheduled game at 8 p. m.

Edie Lou Rogenstein, "Miss Baseball of 1953," spent the past weekend at Bob Howard's Howard Manor where she was entertained royally.

"Miss Baseball," while at Howard Manor, met the king of baseball, Ralph Kiner, and they had a long talk on the fine points of the game.

Miss Rogenstein, 17, was chosen from many other charming lovelies at the Baseball Managers convention held in Phoenix, Arizona, recently.

Visiting Cat

Causes Big Stir in Local Home

Now the question is, who let the cat in the house? Mrs. Kenneth Kirk, 335 Camino Norte, reported to police at 1:18 a. m., Wednesday, that someone was trying to get out of the house through a window.

Officers responded immediately and found—a large Persian cat which had in some way found its way into the house and was trying to get out again through a window.

Supervisors Plan Trips to Outside Cities

Vote 3 to 2 to Meet Monthly Throughout County

County board of supervisors Monday adopted a plan to hold meetings at communities outside the county seat at least once a month in order to get to know the county better.

Supervisor Irwin Hayden, who voted against the plan along with Supervisor Sherman Lewis, said the plan will flop. As the supervisors argued the plan after the vote, Hayden said:

"Why argue about it? It'll be settled very soon. It'll die on the vine. You'll have two or three meetings, and nobody will come, and that will be the end of it."

BUT SUPERVISOR ROMAN Warren, who proposed the plan in his first day in office on January 5, and Supervisor Chairman William Jones and Supervisor Homer Varner said they had high hopes.

They said it will improve their understanding of the county's problems and make communities far away from the county seat at Riverside aware that the supervisors are deeply interested in their problems.

According to the resolution, the board of supervisors "adopts a policy of meeting at places outside the county seat once each month at a time, date, and place to be fixed by the board of supervisors, for the purpose of making investigations and hearing matters relating to the public interest and welfare of the county of Riverside."

THE MAJORITY—Warren Jones, and Varner—said they will ask heads of county departments to

Through a Los Angeles attorney, Mario Lanza, here to take it easy in the sun before returning to the movie studios, the singing star had only a terse "no comment" when informed that his ex-landlady in Beverly Hills had sued him for $19,801. The suit was filed in Los Angeles courts Thursday.

Mrs. Kathryn Guntton, of Philadelphia, owner of the $75,000 Beverly Hills home, charged in her suit that the amount represented back rent and damage to her home.

SPEAKER—Robert S. Fuller of Bank of America, who will address Palm Springs Lions Thursday on "Real Estate Trends."

Lions to Hear Talk by Banker

Palm Springs Lions club today will hear a talk by Robert S. Fuller, assistant vice president and chief appraiser for the Bank of America.

Fuller has been in the banking business for 25 years. Harold West, assistant manager of the local branch, Bank of America, will be the day's chairman.

Fuller's topic will be "Real Estate Trends," accompany them on the trips. Lewis said he thought the supervisors should make such trips only when a community or a group invited them.

The first meeting has not yet been arranged.

Year in Jail for Erring Husband

John Bowman, 31, who was arrested here for beating his pretty young wife and shoving her, unclad, into a local cafe, a few weeks ago, is in county jail serving a one-year term.

But his young wife, Helen, who suffered a broken nose in the battle—besides the humiliation of her bizarre appearance in the restaurant—was forgiving. Probation Officer Robert Gross reported the couple reconciled and planning a new life. He asked that Bowman serve no more time in jail but be given probation. Judge O. K. Morton, however, ordered the jail term.

Inventor Tells Rotarians of New Super Airplane

Rotarians were astonished last week to hear a young man tell them he had the design for a plane that could carry 4000 people for 25,000 miles non-stop. He was William E. Horton of Santa Anna, inventor of the Thornton wingless plane. He has built a small one and flown it in test runs a short distance off the ground as evidenced by the movies he showed the Rotarians at last week's meeting at the Tennis club.

His wingless plane, Horton said, will carry a 100 per cent greater load than today's conventional ships, and go twice as far without landing. Horton's plane uses all of its fuselage as a lifting surface, he explained, while present-day ships depend on wings. He claims that his wingless version will have greater flexibility and utility than any plane ever built.

THORNTON TOLD the Rotarians and their visitors that he has had difficulty in developing his plane because nobody believed it would fly, and the usual facilities and finances for developing new planes were not available to him. He has managed, however, to get his one built although more powerful motors are needed to give it a complete test which he hopes to conduct in about two months. Thornton envisions small wingless models that can be built as combination auto and plane, small enough to park in an ordinary garage.

Introduced as the distinguished visitor of the day was Bob Rowe, president of the San Francisco club who is in charge of arrangements for Rotary International's forthcoming convention in Paris. He was introduced by Edward Bacon, also a member of the San Francisco club and a Palm Springs home owner.

EDDIE DAVIDSON, manager of the Rossmore hotel and president of the Hotel Owners association, was inducted into membership by Col. Clint Fox. Membership in Palm Springs Rotary now numbers over 70. There were more than that many visiting Rotarians and guests at the meeting last week.

Hunt for Shooting Motorists Fails in Desert Areas

A road block set up at the north city limits early Sunday morning failed to capture the persons responsible for shooting out several lights at the Southern Pacific railroad station on Highway 111.

Police received a report at 12:13 a. m. that occupants of a dark-colored coupe with "loud pipes," while traveling by the station, had shot out some of the lights there. It was headed toward Banning.

At 12:22 a. m., another call came from the station that the car had again passed by, this time heading in the direction of Palm Springs. The car was traveling with its lights turned out.

Anti-Smog

County Group to Hear Details

Riverside county's anti-smog committee will meet today to hear details of a bill introduced in the legislature to establish an air pollution district in eastern San Bernardino and western Riverside counties.

Leo Backstrand, Riverside.

THEY'RE BACK EARLY—Harry Oliver of Thousand Palms talks to a buzzard at his Fort there. Oliver says that the buzzards come back to the desert as regularly as swallows to Capistrano but don't get the play the swallows do. Here one of the advance flight talks things over with him—at least, so he says.

Stanford Shaw, Ontario, assemblymen who introduced the measure and Gordon Larsen, director of Los Angeles county air pollution control district, are scheduled to speak.

This is an Authentic Lie—

Oliver Interviews Buzzard as Flock Makes Early Call

Who says the birds are unconcerned over what man does on or to this planet? Not because their migration time has anything to do with an early or late Spring, but rather because they were curious over the human migration that packed Washington, D. C., on I-Day, January 20, the yearly advance flight of buzzards returned to Old Ft. Oliver at Thousand Palms on January 23 instead of on their traditional day of March.

According to Harry Oliver, fort commandant and Desert Rat publisher, one buzzard that looked like a cross between the common desert variety and a parrot wheeled down for an interview (in Spanish) while others in the flight were content to soar overhead. Oliver, who swears he is the most truthful of all desert liars, says the buzzards had a great time watching the inaugural parade and crowds in Washington. Flights of Air Force jets served to keep the birds too high for a close look so curious like they winged out to ask their friend Oliver all about why man was migrating like birds this year.

COMING INTO CALIFORNIA low on the Blythe radio beam, the buzzards saw a line crossing the Chuckawalla Desert that looked to them like Riverside county had been cut in two. That was another question they popped to the Desert Sage.

Now, Oliver hastened to explain for the benefit of those who might disbelieve, he has been on friendly terms with the buzzards for over three years. It all dates back to a Summer afternoon in 1949 when Oliver became so engrossed in celebrating Bastille Day he lost both his way and canteen somewhere in the Mojave Desert. Buzzards rescued him from death by leading him to Budweiser Springs (15 miles north of Amboy). In return for the rescue Oliver was made to promise that he would die outside. He secretly believes the buzzards dropped in to check on the 1949 promise as they undoubtedly knew of Oliver's recent attempt to find a suitable living cave in Twentynine Palms and were worried.

THE BIRDS. Oliver reports come back to the old adobe fort as regularly as swallows appear at Capistrano. This time Oliver told the curious bird that the line noted crossing the desert was the Southern California Gas Company pipe to bring gas from Texas. The old buzzard, whom Oliver insists has a sense of humor well developed, replied, "Harry, that is a great idea. It will take all the gas in Texas to make the smudge pot lighters in Riverside allow you desert folks your own county of Geronomo."

The Thousand Palms publisher modestly disclaims any credit for his remarkable interview. Rather, he asserts, the buzzard did the interviewing.

Just in case some tenderfoot west of the mountains didn't believe his report, Oliver had his picture taken during the interview. He would have included a tape recording, too, but he was too busy getting up his "Three Anniversary Edition" of the Desert Rat Scrap Book. It will come out when Oliver is 65, his dog Whiskers is 7, and the paper is 6.

Gas Company to Spend Big Sum

Southern California Gas company's budget for 1953 anticipates capital expenditures exceeding $1,900,000 in this area, it was learned today from W. P. Hand, manager of the company's Eastern division.

The two major items in this year's budget, Hand said, are (1) $1,100,000 which will be expended for new pipelines and meters to supply gas to some 6300 new customers that it is estimated will be added in the next 12-month period; and (2)

County's Share in Fund, $320,774

Riverside county will receive $320,774.52 from the Highway Users Tax fund, State Controller Robert C. Kirkwood said yesterday. The money comes from gasoline tax, use fuel tax, and transfers from the motor vehicle transportation tax fund.

Of the total fund, $48,556,324, counties received $15,129,771, cities, $5,933,367 and the state highway fund, $27,493,186.

The money for cities was transferred to the state highway fund and will be allocated to cities according to population by the state highway commission.

AT THE INAUGURATION

I will try to give you my impressions of the last two days of the Inaugural festivities and the meeting of the Women's Division of the Republican Party the following day.

Monday afternoon, I picked up Mrs. Warner of Pasadena at her hotel. Mrs. Warner and her late husband were great friends of Mrs. Nellie Coffman and spent much time at the Desert Inn. We went to the reception for the Nixon at the Willard Hotel. The beautiful Crystal Ballroom, so named because of the magnificent crystal chandeliers, was packed from wall to wall... mostly Californians. I passed by Frank Bennett taking tickets at the door (oh, no, nothing was free) and he did not know me. Later I saw Melba, Congresswoman and Mrs. Phillips, Joe Garland of Los Angeles and Wilbur Davis, formerly of Colonial House. We finally reached the receiving line and had a word with Dick and Pat. They both made short speeches later.

There was a beautifully set table with luscious hors d'oeuvres and another with assorted beverages.

Monday evening I attended the Inaugural Movie Festival at Uline Arena at which George Murphy was master of ceremonies. Every ticket for this huge arena, which holds thousands, had been sold. The show, which lasted from 8:30 to 1 a. m., ran the gamut of entertainment from opera to torch singers, ballet to comedy dancers, the best dance teams in the world, circus acts, comedians of radio and TV.

All of the new officials, the soon-to-be Vice President and Mrs. Nixon, all of the new cabinet members and their wives, administration officials, governors and senators were introduced by Speaker Joe Martin. Each stood up and took a bow in the spotlight.

Tuesday, "The Big Day," was warm and sunny for which everyone seemed to be so grateful. The parade was magnificent and colorful. President Eisenhower's car was a pale yellow Cadillac, upholstered in red leather. The Long Beach escort of Palominos (for Vice President Nixon) was a great attraction.

Mr. Nixon's office offered me a seat for the swearing-in ceremony.

$525,000 required to carry on the company's long-range pipeline repair and replacement program.

The rest of the funds allocated to this area this year will go into new buildings and equipment needed to care for the steady enlargement of the business here.

I did not see one of them among the crowd of 8000. When the lights were dimmed and the band played the "Star-Spangled Banner" it was most impressive... The hall was beautifully decorated. Six or seven big name bands played during the evening and, though the floor was crowded, people managed to dance. Jeanette MacDonald sang as did many other well-known stars. A buffet plate was served and everyone seemed very happy until they went out and tried to get a cab. We had to walk five blocks and almost fight to get one... we could have parked our car closer. But, it was a wonderful thrill to be there. Even though I had been to others, this was the best one of all.

On Wednesday I attended the lunch for the Women's Division of the Republican Federation at the Statler. Miss Adkins, head of the Federation, presided and among the speakers were Mrs.

2b—The Desert Sun and PALM SPRINGS NEWS PALM SPRINGS, CALIFORNIA Thursday, February 5, 1953

Ivy Priest, Edith Nourse Rogers and Mrs. Eveta Culp Hobby. The only Californian I could spot in the crowd of over 500 was National Committeewoman Mrs. Marjorie Benedict, but I know Melba Bennett and Catharine Woodworth were there.

The speakers stressed the importance of carrying on the work of the Republican party right through the non-election years.

And so, ladies and gentlemen, that winds up my brief and sketchy impressions of the main events of the inauguration of President Dwight Eisenhower and Vice President Richard Nixon.

Tony Burke, well known Village and active in the real estate business in the Palm Springs area since 1929, had two important announcements to make this week.

First, he said, he has opened his own real estate office on Highway 111 and the Wonder Palms road.

The location is eight miles east of Palm Springs and in the heart of the country club area.

Girl Scouts

The joys and problems of Girl Scout leadership were highlighted at a conference of more than one hundred and fifty women in the First Baptist church of Redlands, Monday, February 6. Calling themselves the "Gray-back" Round-up—all those who operate within sight of Mt. San Geronimo—the meeting developed many useful suggestions from the pooling of experiences, and from the talks of able directors.

From Palm Springs area were nine of the Scout Board and troop leaders: Margo Morrison, Ruth Wiley, Pauline Smith, Katie French, Barbara Barnes, Marjorie Anderson, (Desert Hot Springs), Wilma Gordon (Cathedral City), June Pyle, and Naomi Mitchell. The delegates reported an enthusiastic meeting, and a helpful enlargement of understanding for improvement in local Scouting.

TROOP NEWS

Troop 18, Brownies, under Reba Mason and Mrs. Carrithers, is planning a Valentine party for February 13, Thursday, at 3 p. m. Invited will be parents and members of the Scout Board, for whom the girls will stage a dramatization of the Brownie story, with songs and dances.

The girls are studying outdoor lore, trail signs, fire-building, and other camping interests. The Patrols alternate in the refreshments, doing all the planning unassisted, and feeling themselves quite capable in the doing.

Of the remaining 17 troops of Girl Scouts and Brownies, some 200 members in the area, more lively news is developing for early reporting.—Naomi Mitchell.

Cactus Charley SAYS

Along in 1938 F. F. Runyon, the Editor of the Pasadena Independence, made a prophecy which has come true with remarkable accuracy. Sometimes nowadays when you hear dire forebodings that Palm Springs and environs are over built, that it will all collapse and one bright sunny morning the big balloon will be found out there on the desert all flattened out, let's think of what actually did occur in the 14 years since this article was printed.

All of us are familiar with the history of Palm Springs. Years ago a doctor who realized the dry air of the desert was especially beneficial for certain cures, established a small sanitarium at what is today known as Palm Springs. This under careful management has developed into the Desert Inn, no longer a sanitarium but a magnificent hotel. About this hotel has developed a city with numerous hotels, beautiful homes and dude ranches and Palm Springs is known today as one of the leading resort centers of the country.

There are many other spots on the desert just as desirable as this superb center just as dry, just as healthy, just as attractive. Palm Springs has merely pointed the way. There will be other greater developments in these desert centers in the future. Packed with health, fresh air, remoteness, freedom and blessed with the most perfect climate on earth, you will see great acreages of the desert not merely taken up casually but gobbled up. The deserts will no longer be far away. They will be quite near. So here is a recommendation, get a piece of land on the desert while the opportunity remains. It will be a good investment for your boy or girl even if you don't get the chance to use it. Take a bit of advice: Get a piece of desert while you can.

Maybe this philosophy was what Richard O'Mara of South Lucerne, Los Angeles had in mind the other day when I stumbled upon him gazing rapturously at the gorgeous panorama from the 1500 acres of Hidden Springs Ranch at the end of Ramon Road in Thousand Palms. The pride of possession beamed on the faces of Mr. O'Mara and his attractive young wife, while their two children played in the clean sand making believe "our house here" as they told me. Said the O'Maras, "years ago when we were coming west to live we stopped off at Palm Springs. A real estate man showed us a lot up there on the slopes north of the town all covered with huge rocks, not a house around and asked us the ridiculous price of $2200. We laughed then but the laugh was later on us. Last month we looked at that tract again with its scores of fine homes, the lots nearly all sold and the price of the few remaining from $10,000 up. During the years since the initial visit, we have seen this desert grow: There was no paved road beyond the Biltmore when Smoke Tree opened its gates. One could ride all up Palm Canyon then without fences, gallop over virgin desert east of Araby without trespass on private homes., Ramon Road was a wagon road trailing off onto the sands. No five bisecting roads then crossed the valley; no swank Thunderbird Golf Club, Rancho Mirage, Palm Village or Shadow Mountain's million dollar club and the little city of Palm Desert. We saw Charley Doyle sell acre plots in his Smoke Tree Ranch for $1950 and watched parcels sell for five times that price in a few years and we watched the whole south side of the valley be bought up and developed until little of the wide open spaces of the real desert remain for the city weary seeking peace, solitude, and rest. All that seems left is this little known area of Thousand Palms, the last unspoiled desert domain, riders' paradise, and palmed oasis.

So we have bought this acre and a quarter here for $1750, with water and utilities to the parcel, and a club house and swimming pool available to our use. We mean to just sit on it until our children are old enough and then build. If we never build, the land will appreciate and we are in at bottom costs. Doyle's projects down here have been successful, purchasers always have enhancement of values. It's a good investment in land alone. And as a property there is nothing comparable to this Hidden Springs Ranch in the whole upper valley and it's only 15 minutes out of Palm Springs. In another ten years, this whole area will be built up, prices beyond reach.

Carnival at School

Grown ups and children alike are looking forward to the big Valentine Carnival to be held at the Cathedral City school Friday, February 13 from 5 p. m. to 9 p. m. There will be games and entertainment for adults as well as children, according to Mrs. Wilma Gordon, president of the Mothers club which sponsors the annual event to raise funds for the Christmas treat for the school children and pre-school children and for an annual gift or gifts to the school.

The first grade will feature a clown bean bag concession as well as a used comic book sale. The second grade will have a "fish pond" with a prize for every fisherman. Tossing the hoops over the pegs will be the game sponsored by the third grade class. Cathedral City mothers will make their favorite candy recipe for the for "white elephant" sale. The Brownie Girl Scouts have prepared attractive desert planters to add to this room's activities. In the fifth grade room participants will try their skill at the "dart balloon" game. Sixth graders will entertain with a "show boat" performance using the room talent. Outdoors there will be pony cart rides, balloons filled with gas, music and a kindergarten popcorn vendor. Admission to the grounds will be free. On sale will be super chili, hot dogs, pie, ice cream, coffee, milk and soda pop. Homemade pies to take home will also be sold.

St. Louis Church

Sunday morning attendance at St. Louis church the past year totalled 9934 persons. It was disclosed in the annual report by Father Joseph Leissler, pastor. That figure represents an increase of nearly 1500 persons over 1951. The daily morning and the various evening services would add considerably to the year's total. There is much satisfaction said Father Leissler, in noting the yearly increase in attendance. The first full year of the parish's existence only 5899 persons were present. The following season 7674 came to St. Louis church. The third year almost 800 more persons worshipped at the local Catholic church than had the previous year.

Three hundred and twenty people were served at the spaghetti dinner last Saturday night at St. Louis church. This is a third more than at the spaghetti dinner last year. The hall was beautifully decorated in a Valentine motif. Father Leissler expresses the gratitude of the church to the many non-Catholic friends who helped to make the supper a success. Proceeds of the dinner will go towards the purchase of a six-burner restaurant range for the church. A lovely hand knit stole was presented to Mrs. Mabel Will of Cathedral City.

Girl Scouts Active

Mrs. Wilma Gordon, youth chairman of the Cathedral City Woman's club attended the Greyback Roundup for Girl Scout Leaders at Redlands on Monday, bringing back many new ideas to pass on to the leaders in the local troops.

Dr. James R. Ketchersid of the Desert Animal Clinic spoke to the Cathedral City Girl Scouts Monday. Dr. Ketchersid with his little dog Bobby, gave the girls much information which will be helpful to them in completing requirements in earning the Dog and Cat Badge. There are over 100 badges to work on so that anyone willing to give an hour's time speaking on his favorite hobby or pastime (experiences) can surely find a subject which would be a help to none or more of these subjects. The leaders would welcome guest speakers. Cathedral City was well represented last Saturday at the Community Chest breakfast held at the Village Market in Palm Springs when ten Girl Scouts of Troop 6 helped in serving the breakfast. Besides having an enjoyable day the girls were glad to have an opportunity to help repay the Community Chest for the many advantages they receive in their Scout work. The local troop has a high percentage of girls with uniforms. Mrs. Gordon says that our girls presented a fine appearance and the community can well be proud of them. Those attending were: Patty Hayhurst, Carol Miller, Linda Schever, Linda Scott, Rita Krupp, Linda McManaman, Gracie Nelson, Linda Hileman, Sandra Schmidt and Lucia Goodbrod.

C. of C. Drive

A progress report meeting of the Cathedral City chapter of commerce membership drive was held at the Town Hall last Friday evening with chairman Leslie Kelley presiding. While only the half way mark, about 90, in expected memberships was reported, the drive is well ahead of last year's figure for the same date, Kelley said. The committee is attempting to contact everyone. However, Kelley pointed out, it would help the volunteer workers if all those interested in the welfare and improvement of their community would turn in their dues to Bud Rupp at Rupp's Supply, without waiting to be solicited. The Chamber of Commerce has heavy annual payments to make on bonds which were issued for the purchase of the fire station, the library and a portion of the Broadway paving, as well as for current advertising brochures, bulletin boards and maintenance of the Town Hall. All of these activities must be paid for by the membership dues and the annual jamboree.

Librarian Warner Moon reports that circulation of books at Cathedral City Public Library reached an all-time high for the month of January with a distribution of 1059 books. The library keeps up to date on current fiction, he says, having just last week received 50 volumes of new adult fiction. The re-

Cal Emerson who has been manager of the Cathedral City branch of Desert Bank for the past two years, at last week's meeting of the board of directors was elected vice president. Mr. Emerson with his wife and young son has his residence in Sunair section of Cathedral City. He is active in civic affairs, being a director and treasurer of the Chamber of Commerce and a member of the Palm Springs Unified School district. Charles Wameling, formerly a teller at the bank here, who has been stationed at the Indio branch for the past year was made assistant cashier there. Mr. Wameling and family live in Sun Gold Gardens, Indio.

A group of neighbors and friends gathered at the Desert Cove ranch home of the Scott Thompsons last Wednesday evening for a surprise party and shower honoring their son Marshall and his bride. The young couple were married early in the Autumn but since both were students at the University announcement was not made of the event until the Christmas and New Year holidays. Mrs. Emma Phillips and Mrs. Ruth Metz were hostesses for the party and a very delightful evening was spent. The young couple received many lovely gifts. A heart-shaped cake was cut by the bride, and refreshments of ice cream, cake and coffee were served.

Mrs. Miriam Williamson, Director of the Desert Art Center Gallery, is taking a month's leave of absence on doctor's orders. During this time Mrs. Sophie Sturtevant of Desert Hot Springs will be in charge of the gallery.

More than 100 participated in Communion at Cathedral City Community church last Sunday. Already the church has far outgrown its present quarters established some short time ago, states Rev. Graham Hunter, pastor. He says that the need for more space, particularly for the Sunday school and associated activities for the training and guidance of the youth of the community, is acute. At the meeting of the church officers held last week, Jack Hillery was elected president of the board of trustees and Miss Lydia Engh secretary. Church committees for the year were named: Music, Mrs. C. H. Mitchell, Miss Nellie Tucker, Mrs. N. O. Wickland, Jack Hillery; Ushers, Mr. Edward Dering in charge; Flowers, Mrs. Paul Clark and Mrs. Wilbur Larrison; Communion elements, Mrs. H. E. Peterson and

Mrs. Graham Hunter; Member Participation, Paul W. Clark, F. G. Wheeler, Miss Lydia Engh; Christian Education, Rev. Hunter, Edward Dering, Scott Thompson, George Miller, Mrs. Graham Hunter, Mrs. N. O. Wickland. The Women's Auxiliary is collecting worn sheets which are to be made into bandages to be sent to Thailand. Any available should be left with Mrs. Lydia Engh, opposite the post office. The Women's Auxiliary will meet next Thursday, February 12, at the home of Mrs. H. E. Peterson, Desert Cove ranch. The meeting will be addressed by Mrs. Jacob F. Wiens of Hemet. Mr. Wiens is presently superintendent of schools there. He was for several years head of the State Prison for Women at Tehachapi and Mrs. Wiens will speak concerning the work there.

Community work by Winter visitors seems to be catching. This column recently reported the labors of Mr. G. A. Zentmeyer in Sunair Park. Mr. Zentmeyer last week transferred his voluntary efforts to the Community church where he did some much needed painting. Chamber of Commerce director E. M. I. Greener reports that a guest in one of his cottages, Norris Ames, a retired hardware dealer of Silverton, Oregon, put in most of the week gathering and burning trash and weeds at the park.

The Fashion Show presented by the Woman's club yesterday at Desert Air hotel will be reported in next week's column.

Outstanding Musical Event Presages New Guild Here

By GERTRUDE WALKER

A rapt group of music lovers, Sunday afternoon listened to a group of artists in a program that is destined to make musical history for the desert area.

Mrs. Eber D. Kanaga gave her home and the use of her Steinway grand piano for Trixie Jarrette, pianist, and Cesare and Martha Claudio, the former an internationally known cellist, whose talented wife is his professional accompanist.

MUSICAL HISTORY was made when, for the first time in the United States, Cesare Claudio played the Sonata in E minor by Sandro Fuga, which the composer dedicated to Claudio. It was to have had its initial introduction when the Claudios will be heard in concert in Sacramento later this month, but the enthusiasm of the group hearing these great artists, was rewarded by being the first to hear this noble composition for cello and piano.

The Claudios opened the program with the Beethoven Sonata in G Minor for cello and piano. The opening adagio movement in stately rhythm was played with splendid restraint, the resonance and sweetness of tone proving the artistry of the performers. Pianissimo parts were marvelously phrased, breaking into passionate, brilliant cadences which crescendoed into great rolling phrases of infinite beauty and power. The allegro non troppo and rondo movements were greatly performed. Claudio's cello was made by the incomparable Granciano in 1636 and the mighty instrument responded to the sensitive artistry of the artist in a glory of sound. The minor strains rose to climactic splendor with the piano always giving a background of brilliant work. The pedaling of Martha Claudio at the piano is noticeably fine, pedantic in its surety of technique.

TRIXIE JARRETTE followed with a group, beginning with the Sonata in C Major by Scarlatti, played with her always brilliant interpretative power. There followed Grieg's Butterfly and To Spring, light, lovely music, then one of the most melodic of all Debussy's compositions, the three numbers of The Children's Corner. Particularly fine was the work of the left hand in certain singing passages and the pianissimo parts, as played by the artist showed both sureness of technique and a power of interpretation that are the endowments of a great musician. Particularly fine were the staccato notes in the Cake-walk of the Corner. The noble Rhapsody number 6 by Liszt followed, the rendition holding the audience breathless with its fire, pathos, magnificent coordination of both hands; in passages the cantabile work being singularly sweet. The encores played for her mother, Mrs. Blanco, one by Kachaturian, great Armenian composer and the other by the Spaniard Villalobos, were brilliantly and powerfully rendered. Flawless technique, artistry of interpretation, power and fire distinguish Jarrette's playing, placing her as a top rank artist.

The Claudios ended the program with the Sonata by Fuga. Written in classic tradition with none of the modern idiom distasteful to purists in musical lore, the noble granciano responded to the artistry of Claudio in this difficult composition in a manner which awed the listener. This critic has never heard anything more musically perfect than the Coda of the Sonata where the cello murmured in purest pianissimo, hardly more than a breath of heavenly sound, while the piano sang exultantly. This Sonata is certain to win for itself a place in the esteem of American listeners as it has in European musical circles.

THE SMALL GROUP invited to this afternoon of great music will comprise in part, the nucleus of a Music Guild, now in the forming, of the Desert Art Center. Trustees of the D.A.C. present were unbounded in their enthusiasm for the work of the artists. The affair was arranged by Trixie Jarrette and Gertrude Walker.

Invited to Ms. Kanaga's home were Mesdames and Messrs. Willard Price, James Wolseth, Collis Steere, Claude Freeman, J. G. Walker, Carlos Close, Dr. and Mrs. Weldon Pascoe, J. Follansbee, Mesdames Sophie Sturtevant, Dupray and Gertrude Blanco also Bill Bardo, Graham Dexter and Jerry Jarrette.

On the Trails

For a wonderful day in the saddle... consider a ride to Cabot Yerxa's Pueblo. Starting from Rogers Ranch Stables, cut directly across the desert in the direction of Desert Hot Springs. After crossing the railroad and Highway 99, you will come out somewhere in the neighborhood of B Bar H Ranch or the Circle B Ranch. From there the Two Bunch Spa can easily be seen, which is your direction until the Pueblo can be seen. Cross country the trip is both beautiful and an exciting experience, and well worth while. Located in a little canyon about two miles this side of east of Desert Hot Springs, the Pueblo consists of thirty-five rooms, sixty-five doors, one hundred-forty windows, with thirty different roof levels... and its construction has been going on for ten years. It is a combination of Art Gallery, Mission and Trading Post. Built over a hot water well, the Pueblo is three hundred feet above the desert floor. Cabot Yerxa is a descendant of John Cabot, discoverer of Newfoundland, and has been in the desert since 1913. While you unpack your lunch, Cabot will tell you all about "Merry Christmas," a black burro, his only help during his early building years.

Sunday afternoon and evening saw another party day at the Los Compadres Clubhouse. Cocktails and a de luxe stew dinner brought out the gang en masse. All members are looking forward to the "Bronc Busters Ball," Saturday, February 7, at the clubhouse. A good western swing band will be on hand and the members are going all out for inviting guests. Enjoy Noted Musical Event

Quite the most outstanding and thrilling musical event of the season was presented at the Palm Springs Woman's club Monday . . .

Mrs. Randall Henderson, program chairman, introduced the guest artists to the large audience in a program of such outstanding merit, it is difficult to single out any particular artist or selection . . .

John Lombardi, distinguished Italian baritone with his resonant, dramatic and absolutely truesome voice, won many ovations from his appreciative audience to which he generously responded. His selections were chosen with intent to please all tastes in vocal music and each was sung with clarity, conciseness and alert musicianship . . .

Jane Mueller, sensational dancer, who has appeared in radio and television, danced with rapidity and grace and literally held her audience spellbound . . .

In addition, beautiful Doris Crane, violinist, donated her rare and exceptionally pleasing talent to the delightful afternoon. Ably and intelligently accompanying the above artists was Sergei Malavsky, concert pianist and arranger whose perfect technique thrilled his audience . . .

The floral arrangements and decorations were created by Miss Anita Lambert, a new member, which was quite appropriate on "New Members Day." Following a brief talk by the president, Mrs. S. P. Manasse, in which she urged that all new members be grafted, like branches on a tree, grafted with warmth, kindness and friendliness to ensure a safe future for the club, a gardenia was placed upon the lapels of nearly forty new members of this season by Mrs. Christine Renier and Mrs. Daniel McCauley . . .

Soroptimists Hear Talk by Miss Moran

In an informal talk at the Soroptimist Club at the Racquet Club Tuesday noon, Gussie Moran said that the United States promotes a better program for junior tennis players than other countries do.

Miss Moran, who is tennis hostess at the Racquet Club this season has been playing tennis since she was 12. She said she started playing simply because it was a required subject at Santa Monica high school, where she was a student.

In answer to questions, she told some of the experiences she has had meeting celebrities and hobnobbing with royalty abroad. Concerning other tennis players, she said she thinks Helen Roark (the former Helen Willis Moody) hits the ball harder than any other player she has met.

The club celebrated the birthdays of Dr. Georgiana Raymond and Calista Stefan, by singing the "Birthday Song" and presenting each with a gift.

The speaker at next Tuesday's luncheon will be Lucile Johnson of the Coachella Valley Savings, who will show vacation pictures taken in Alaska.

around the... TENNIS CLUB

By Beth Scott

Valley Hunt club members from Pasadena have been playing tennis with members of the Tennis club's team on the local courts this week. Among the many from Pasadena who have been staying at the club this week are: Messrs. and Mmes. Palmer Wheaton, H. P. Keith, Milo J. Olson, Ted Combs, James Boyle, Mrs. Jane Test and Miss Elizabeth Howes.

The Tennis club was converted into a barnyard scene (very elegant barnyard, that is) for the big Western Dinner dance held last Friday night. Many of those attending the party appeared in their western costumes at the Dick Edwards large cocktail gathering in the Lanai room. One of the outstanding decorations at the Edwards' party was the model sailing craft designed in ice for the buffet table. As Mr. Edwards rates with the best of the sailing enthusiasts he saw to the cutting of the ice to have the sails with just enough curve denoting the right amount of wind.

Among the many seen about the Tennis club recently have been the Franklin MacCarthys and Lorraine MacCarthy. At a nearby table were the Austin McManuses with Zaddie Bunker (the flying grandmother) and others. A busy threesome seeing the sights at the club one recent evening were Muriel Fulton, John Ambler and Bes Blanchard.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Gamble had a large group for dinner on Saturday night, which included the Dennis Days.

Among others staying in the Tennis club bungalows are Mr. and Mrs. Frank Belcher of Menlo Park, who flew here in their own plane for a fortnight's holiday. Also staying in the bungalows are Mr. and Mrs. P. B. Kimball, Quebec; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Dobbs and daughter Ann, Pasadena; Mr. and Mrs. Gordon K. Grout, San Marino; Mr. and Mrs. Lew Dicker, Los Angeles; Mrs. Lelah Chamberlain, Jr., Redwood City and her mother, Mrs. H. Irvine Keyser, 11, New York City; Mr. and Mrs. Warren Spieker, Atherton; Mrs. J. C. Robinson, New Rochelle, New York.

WHAT'S YOUR WAISTLINE?—Pink shantung tape measures are used dramatically on this navy dress. A Howard Greer model to be shown at the Woman's Club fashion show tomorrow morning and again in the afternoon. Professional models will display the clothes which are being supplied through local stores.

Woman's Club to Present Fashion Shows Tomorrow

Whether they go for the continental breakfast at 9:30 a. m. or to the afternoon tea at 2:30 p. m., the women of Palm Springs attending the two fashion shows to be presented at the Women's clubhouse, 311 South Cahulla road tomorrow, will see the identical show. The two presentations have been arranged to accommodate the many people wishing to view this first showing of the 1933 fashions.

Themed "Desert Dates," the showing will take place in a clubhouse that has been transformed into a veritable oasis for the occasion. Date palms and camels, of the decorative kind, will heighten the illusion. Lovely professional models, of all ages and sizes, will introduce the new soft date shade, which is expected to prove one of the season's most popular colors.

Two beautiful door prizes will be given away, a desert painting by Mrs. Armand Turronet, local desert artist, and an original figurine, sculptured in clay by Mrs. Randall Henderson, local sculptress.

No effort has been spared by the committee to promote the Fashion Show as it is a benefit project for the club's favorite which each year is used to send some Palm Springs boy or girl to college.

While ticket sales have been exceptionally good, a few reservations are still available and may be had by telephoning 2352. Tickets are $2.50, including tax.

University Women Plan Art Program

A creative arts program, presenting a sculptress and a harpist, has been arranged for the next meeting of the Palm Springs AAUW, to be held at 8 p. m. on February 10, at the home of Mrs. Joe Gamble at 275 Camino del Norte.

Cyria Henderson, noted sculptress and lecturer, will illustrate her talk, modeling as she speaks. D'Esta Williams will play several harp selections.

Ellis Gottbeueh is the chairman of the hospitality committee for the evening. On her committee will be Mary Petrone, Florence Lockett, Billie Lou Floan, Lois Lux and Phoebe Clark.

Southlanders at Holiday House

Among recent new guests at Holiday House are: Messrs. and Mesdames A. E. Rude of Arcadia, Ralph Walsh of Westminster, Howard Neal of Los Angeles.

Here to spend the weekend

Cops and Robbers Drama Enters Andrea's Gem Show

Over 300 distinguished guests who attended the cocktail party at El Mirador Sunday afternoon, when Andrea Leeds Howard opened her second Andrea of Palm Springs gift shop, had a little "cops and robbers" excitement to add to a memorable opening.

While Trifari had flown out the exact replica of Mrs. Eisenhower's inauguration jewelry for display at the opening, it was Mike Romanoff's crown that stole the show . . . and disappeared itself.

The flamboyantly regal crown, whose origin is already shrouded in legends, is a valuable one so, when it disappeared during the afternoon, excitement reigned . . . and there was a hurry up call for the Palm Springs police.

The police seemed inclined to suspect a gag, and actually that is how it started out for, according to the best reports available, Ray Ryan had spirited the crown away.

After the prank failed to arouse the interest of the Village gendarmes Ryan went to retrieve the crown for some publicity shots, and he was really alarmed when he couldn't find it.

It all ended happily when Jerry Lewis walked in gleefully wearing the missing crown.

Mrs. Howard's new shop is similar in taste and inventory to her lovely shop in Howard Manor—featuring glorious Ruser jewelry, exquisite Dresden china, delicate ceramic delights and many other fabulous art creations gathered from the four corners of the earth.

Judging by the brisk society business conducted on opening day in the El Mirador gift center, Andrea of Palm Springs promises to be one of the desert Village's most successful artistic-commercial enterprises.

Seen in the crowd at the new shop were: Mrs. Helen Kane, Mrs. Grace Pope, Mrs. J. W. Conside Jr., the Barney Grossmans, Mrs. William Doyle, famed dress designer Dorothy Jensen, Mr. James Morton, Mr. and Mrs. Wil-

FOR FEBRUARY—Mrs. Harry Yesley is shown decorating the February table for the annual Birthday Luncheon, to be given by the Women's Circle of the Community Methodist Church on February 10. There will be 12 tables, representing each month of the year.

Women's Circle to Mark Anniversary at Luncheon

Twelve tables, each with its own hostess, will be arranged for the annual birthday luncheon to be given by the Women's Circle of the Community church on next Tuesday. Decorations for each table will carry out the theme of one month of the year.

with February's table featuring the Valentine motif, May the Maypole, July a patriotic theme, and so on through the calendar. Each guest will be seated at the table of her birthday month.

A woman who is prominent in parent education work and as a counselor for young people, Mrs. William Johnson of Hollywood, will be the speaker. Mrs. Johnson is educational director for the Forest Home conference, and is the wife of the Minister of Evangelism of the Hollywood Presbyterian church. Her subject will be "Great Women of the Bible."

Mrs. David King will read the scriptural message.

General chairman for the birthday luncheon to be held in the social hall at the church will be Mrs. William P. Aiken. She will be assisted by the twelve birthday table hostesses.

Luncheon tickets are $1 each and reservations should be made in advance by telephoning Mrs. Charles McDonald, 6449. Tables are being set for 150.

Screen Notables at Racquet Club

Among the motion picture set vacationing at the Racquet club are Dr. and Mrs. Lewis Morrill (screen lovely Rhonda Fleming), Mr. and Mrs. Robert Calhoun (songster Ginny Simms), Mr. and Mrs. Van Johnson, Elliot Nugent who combines both directing and acting, Mr. and Mrs. Les Brown (the orchestra leader), John Scott Trotter, orchestra leader, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Goldwyn, and Mr. and Mrs. Rodgers (Rodgers is the music scribe who has done so many famous scores for such plays as "Oklahoma" with playwright Oscar Hammerstein II).

SUPPER CLUB SONGSTRESS—Opening tonight at El Mirador's Supper Club is the beautiful and talented Gwen Bari, singer and pianist, who writes original songs and does all her own arranging. The former "Powers Girl" has a large repertoire and can play almost any request. She is noted, too, for her wardrobe of gorgeous gowns. Miss Bari, who makes recordings for all the major studios, has appeared in Red Skelton's TV show. Her night club engagements include such top spots as The Belmont Plaza and the Hotel

New Yorker. The Lounge in the Book-Cadillac Hotel in Detroit; The Glass Hat Room in the Congress Hotel in Chicago; and the Biltmore Bowl in Los Angeles. She will be here for a limited engagement and will appear nightly from 9 to 2.

Rare Collection of Jewels Shown Here by Alchians

A million dollars' worth of jewels would be impressive even if it were in a flashing heap of loose stones, an Arabian Nights treasure of diamonds and emeralds, pearls and sapphires, but the collection of custom made jewelry displayed at Jewels by Alchian this week were unbelievably fabulous. Each in a rare and costly setting, was a masterpiece of the jeweler's art to be displayed singly against a swath of black velvet or white satin.

The collection of exotic gems included sultry cat's eyes, smoldering and life like black pearls, enormous diamonds and cabochon emeralds as green as the sea depths, all set in precious platinum and gold. Exquisitely designed and intricately wrought settings enhanced breath-takingly beautiful combinations of perfect stones.

Brought to the Village from Heyman and Brothers of Fifth Avenue for a two-day showing at Jewels by Alchian, this important collection included a 20-carat emerald cut diamond, listed at $125,000 and a 58-carat cat's-eye ring.

A featured ensemble of pink star sapphires, was built around a star that was more than 54 carats in size and the one in the ring was 33 carats large. The two stars, of different size, are almost identical twins in color and conception. The necklace mounting is soft and flexible. The bracelet is a multi-colored, sapphire and diamond, set with golden, blue, champleve and pink sapphires.

Aquamarine rings, necklaces that divide into bracelets, brooches that transform into matching clips, and glittering diamond bracelets were in the treasure trove.

One of the unusually beautiful dinner rings was a big round ring, set with tiny dark blue

"THE PLAYMATES"—Bob Howard's perennially popular Howard Manor brings in another headliner act this week in his Manor Room with the "Playmates" who follow Gene Baylos, the comedian, who finished his stint this week. "The Playmates" are a trio of accomplished artists who play guitar, accordion and bass in delightful style, and whose talents run from classical renditions to hilarious comedy bits.

Palm Desert Sunbeams

By EDITH EDDY WARD

The Reverend and Mrs. John Rober'son Macartney hosted an open house tea last week in the newly completed Manse located on the Palm Desert Community church grounds. People were coming and going all afternoon and some of the friends and neighbors wishing the Macartneys well were the Ralph Caplingers, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Schutz, Sybil Dunlap, Jessie Cobb, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Friday, Millie Mitchell, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Kirk, Edna Value, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Price, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Dodge, the Leland Quicks, Mrs. Randall Henderson, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd C. Mitchell, Dr. and Mrs. S. W. Cockerill, Christine Marklev, Mr. and Mrs. Richard M. Marsh, Dr. and Mrs. Charles B. Alexander and many, many more.

Mr. and Mrs. Herb Pritzlaff left yesterday for a two-week trip to South America. The trip will be made entirely by air. First to Mexico City, Yucatan and Havana. Then on to Miami Nassau and Puerto Rico and from there, to St. Thomas in the Virgin Islands. They plan to return to their lovely Palm Desert home about March 12.

Audrey Allgoewer and yours truly were hosts at a combination birthday party last night at Shadow Mountain club for Otto Allgoewer and Margaret (Bunny) Ward. The club chef, Emanuel Begin, came forth with a beautiful birthday cake baked especially for the occasion and Ernie, the maitre d', went all out with a lovely table and a huge centerpiece of Spring flowers. The Todds played the Tahitian Hula and the Bunny Hop and Otto and Bunny danced the Tennessee Waltz together. Close friends attending the celebration were the Al Petersons, Millie Mitchell, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Reicher, Ottar Roen, Mr. and Mrs. Ross Rehart, Pete Pierson (Dorothy was in L. A.), and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Moon.

The Shadow Mountain Gem and Mineral society is having another one of those delectable pot-luck dinners at the Community church tomorrow night at 6 p. m. After dinner, Mr. George Burnham of Monrovia, will show colored slides of exotic rocks and minerals and talk of his experiences and adventures in Africa while searching for outstanding specimens. Mr. Burnham is a nationally known dealer in colorful rocks and minerals and supplies some of the great museums, as well as private collectors. The pot-luck dinner and meeting are both open to the public—just bring your own service and some tasty hot dish!

The Palm Desert Little Theater opens tonight with a new show—this time it is Lawrence Riley's "Personal Appearance," starring Lorna Hunter as Cecily Carewe and Richard Marsh as Gilbert Gordon in the role of Franklin Crawford. The supporting cast includes Doris York as Gladys Kiley, Lilli Hoffmann as Aunt Kate, Laura Dixon as Joyce Struthers, Bob Linskey as Bud, Violet York as Addie, Irvin Hoke as Clyde Pelton, Milton Hunter as Gene Tuttle, Ace Larabee as Johnson and Bessie Larabee as Jessie. The play is directed by Clay Stearns. The program is billed as the First Anniversary Play, for it was just a year ago that the Desert Play-ers opened up in their renovated Little Theater. Since then, they have come a long way toward providing the Valley with a real little theatre of which everyone can be justly proud.

SHADOW MOUNTAIN ECHOES: June Crocker is the proud grandmother of little "Candy" Crocker, ten-day-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Crocker. Jeff Holmes, infant son of Thorne and Pam Holmes at Firecliff, now weighs 7 1/2 pounds and takes his daily sun bath. Thorne says he has a better tan than his mother, who has been working on hers for five years! Speaking of Firecliff, stopping there this week are Mr. A. W. Shipton, president of Cop-ley Press, Springfield, Illinois,

ONE WOMAN SHOW—The paintings of Kathryn Olsen, Palm Springs artist, will be on exhibit at the Woman's clubhouse all during the month of February. Especially noted for the 3000 portraits which she did of servicemen during the war, the artist has made portraits of many well-known personalities, including President Eisenhower, the President Franklin Delano Roosevelt and Mary Baker Eddy, which will be included in the show. She is shown sketching a serviceman, her 2000th portrait.

and Col. Robert P. Holiday, retired editor of the San Francisco Call Bulletin and now president of the West Holiday Advertising company of San Francisco. At the Shadow Mountain Terrace are Mr. and Mrs. Paul Barnes from Long Beach who are the first purchasers of one of the new Poolside Homes. Also at the Terrace are Mr. John E. Watte, vice president of Catalina Swim Suits, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Tiss and Miss Kate Murdock from Los Angeles. Hal Davis is still talking about the "hole in one" he made on the golf course about two weeks ago.

Le Baron's Music Jams El Mirador

El Mirador Room of Palm Springs' fabulous El Mirador hotel was literally jammed to the gunwhales Saturday night when world-famous society band-leader Eddie Le Baron opened his first of many week-end engagements at the hotel.

All of Le Baron's selections—delightfully played by his 11-piece band—were enthusiastically received by the festive crowd which showed special satisfaction with the Latin tempos.

Le Baron is a home owner in Palm Springs, and is both well-known and well-liked socially in the Village. Many of his friends were on hand to wish the orchestra well on Saturday night.

Gloria Farrin, featured vocalist with the band, was also well received. Her selections drew much applause from the sophisticated crowd.

Carnation Corner

This is a month of special days. Lincoln's Birthday, Valentine's Day, Washington's Birthday—all days when we can have fun being festive!

Your big helper can be Carnation's new Treat-of-the-Month—Cherry Vanilla Ice Cream. It is both good and pretty.

Just ordinary maraschino cherries would not do for Carnation's Cherry Vanilla Treat. Twelve different kinds of cherries were carefully judged to find the very finest. Then these prize cherries are carefully blended into Carnation's famous deluxe vanilla ice cream. Doesn't that sound good? It is!

No Muddy Tracks
 ...if you train your family to leave their wet boots or shoes on a large desk blotter placed just inside the door. Absorbs moisture so shoes dry faster, too.

Don't you agree all Carnation Ice Cream is really superior? Of course, one of the reasons I think so is because I have actually seen the great care that goes into making it. Carnation Ice Cream is pasteurized and homogenized—just as pure and good as it tastes!

CHERRY PARTY PIE

(Quick, Easy and Festive!)

Bake a 9-inch single-crust pie shell from your favorite package mix. Roll out a little extra pastry and cut with a cookie cutter into shapes of axes, hearts or small circles. Bake these on a cookie sheet in a hot oven (425°F.) 4-5 minutes. Fill cooled pie shell with 1 quart of Carnation Cherry Vanilla Ice Cream. Top with pastry cut-outs, serve with hot coffee.

Goodness knows! But archeologists have found cherry pits in the ancient "lake dwellings" of Switzerland—and we know the Romans enjoyed 8 different kinds! Cherries are an important crop wherever they are grown. In fact, in the Rhine Valley, school lets out when the cherries are ripe, so the whole family can help pick!

EASY-ON RAIN BOOTS
 To slide rubber-heeled shoes into rain boots easily, make cups of aluminum foil to fit over shoe heels. Store them right in the boots.

Cherry Snowballs
 Roll scoops of Carnation Cherry Vanilla Ice Cream in crushed cookie or oven toasted cake crumbs. Store in freezing compartment until serving time. Serve with extra cherry sauce if desired.

Don't forget—all Carnation Ice Creams, including new Cherry Vanilla, now come in the new family-size half-gallon carton. Why not phone your husband to pick one up on his way home. I know you'll enjoy it!
